Coach Hartman Lines Up Tough
Grid Card; Meet DePaul In Chicago

Omaha may have had a tough football schedule in 1932, but it will be nothing alongside the 1933 program recently announced by Coach Sed Hartman.

Eight games are slated for the coming season, but Coach Hartman is anxious to sign a game for October 13 or 14, thus boosting the number of contests to nine.

Open With DePaul

The first game is a corker. Omaha travels to Chicago, September 29, for a return game with DePaul, the team which handed the Cardinals a stinging, 34 to 6, defeat at Western League park last season. Omaha opens its conference play against Kearney Normal at Kearney, October 6. Coach Hartman's men won in 1932, 12 to 0, but aren't likely to forget the disheartening 13 to 8 setback of 1931 on the Antelope field.

The second Nebraska Intercollegiate conference contest for the Omahans is October 20, when Wayne invades the metropolis. For two straight years, 1931 and 1932, Omaha and Wayne have fought to a scoreless tie, and in both games the Cardinals have had the edge in yardage gained and first downs.

Washburn At Topeka

Omaha's red letter game is the October 27 tussle with Ernest Bearg's Washburn eleven at Topeka, Kansas. Bearg formerly coached at Nebraska University. Washburn is a new opponent for Omaha. Coach Hartman's grid-ders make a jaunt to Peru November 3 for their third N. I. A. A. encounter with Peru Normal. The two teams did not meet last year. Omaha won the 1931 affair, 12 to 6.

November 10 on the Omaha gridiron Simpson provides the opposition. The Cardinals dropped a 7 to 6 battle at Indianola, Ia., last year. After a two-week respite the Cardinals will go into action against Nebraska Wesleyan at Omaha. The game is scheduled November 24.

The final loop game for Omaha is Thanksgiving day, November 30, when the Cardinals play Chadron Normal, the team which lost a 7-6 game to Omaha at Chadron in 1932.

BUTLER REPORTED
VASTLY IMPROVED
AFTER OPERATIONCondition Is Critical;
Visitors Not Allowed

STILL CONSCIOUS

Duane Butler, '34, who was accidentally shot Thursday afternoon, February 23, when he and two other students were practicing marksmanship north of Nashville, Neb., is in a critical condition in Immanuel Hospital. According to hospital attendants, Butler cannot possibly return to school before Monday, March 20.

Butler underwent an operation Sunday to correct internal complications resulting from the wound. A condition of peritonitis followed the operation, and physicians late Sunday expressed doubt as to his chances for recovery. Thursday, however, found him considerably improved. Friends will not be permitted to see him for at least another week.

Shot In Breast

With Richard O'Brien, '36, and John Bliss, '35, Butler went north of Nashville Thursday afternoon for target practice. O'Brien was preparing to fire at the target, when his foot slipped in the mud, and the .22 calibre rifle discharged accidentally. The bullet struck Butler in the breast.

O'Brien and Bliss rushed Butler back to Omaha and to Immanuel Hospital. He has been conscious ever since the accident.

Duane Butler is a News Editor for The Gateway and in 1931-32 he was managing editor. Last May he was a candidate for editor-in-chief of the paper. He is a member of the Theta Phi Delta fraternity.

At Technical High School, of which Butler is an alumnus, he won the Edison chemistry prize for this district. He was also president of the June, 1930, class.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

RECENTLY, in an editorial on this page, The Gateway asked the administration to provide strong, durable wastebaskets to be placed in the halls and rooms in order to take care of the paper
and other refuse that now clutters
the floors of the buildings.

This has not been done and the condition of the buildings is no better than before, though the administration has asked students to refrain from tossing refuse on the floors.

Until wastebaskets are provided as The Gateway has urged the condition of the buildings will not be improved. When there is no place handy for students to dispose of waste paper and other refuse they cannot be expected to co-operate in keeping the buildings neat and tidy.

What the library needs is an index to help one find the cards in the index.

MORALE OF DRESS

IT is said that even in the outposts of civilization, English agents, though far removed from social contacts and conventions,
dress for dinner.

He is not doing this to satisfy his vanity. Nor does he get into dinner coat and starched shirt to impress the native cook. He does it to keep up his morale and retain his self-respect. One wonders how a college student would react under the same conditions.

This reflection may be far-fetched, but the fact remains that the dress, manners and general attitude of our college youth portrays a decided lack of understanding of the world ahead.

"Dress a man in a soldier's uniform, and with no other suggestion his shoulders straighten." A familiar quotation, it is quite true.
And if this be so, what of the reverse occasion? College students too often forget or ignore the effect of appearance on morale and self-respect. Or maybe they plan to do as they like for four years and then suddenly drop this world for a radically different life.
If so, they have a disheartening
task ahead.

A football player never fortifies
for a season with dissipation or licentiousness. A third-class man is never allowed much to drink at dinner. Deep-sea divers are introduced to or removed from the pressure of the ocean by slow degrees. In comparison it appears that there will be a good many battered souls from starched collars if some of the students held fast to their present views of what to wear.

After a while it is difficult to tell the University students from the grade school kids who loiter around the building.

TRAILS END

The notice on the bulletin board asking seniors to fill out applications for degrees reminds us that a number of students have now reached the point where they can see the end of the trail that leads through college.

The four-year journey has, in many cases, been a long, difficult, and boring affair. The students' last few semesters have been made painful by the burden of trying to meet the constantly changing requirements for graduation.

But if we are to believe what William James says about habits,
the difficulties and dreariness of going through college will prove of inestimable value to the graduates.

Recently we overheard a student say: "After taking thirty hours of — I am convinced that I can stand anything." Undoubtedly this expresses a generally prevailing attitude, so the graduates this June ought to go out and face the world without fear.

PESTS

Oh, Lord, hear now our supplication and deliver us from all
pests.

For a sinner may sin only once in a lifetime; but a pest stings
today, yesterday, and forever.

From the man who borrows our lunch money and the girl who asks to use our locker, deliver us!

From cynics and hay-fever, and history tests, and throwers of cold water, defend us!

From the "honest friend" who pricketh the bubbles of our dreams and shattereth our illusions, who putteth us down, and filleteth us with the inferiority complex . . .

From the egotist who loveth himself above all others and feeleth the world must know of his perfections . . .

From the telephone talker who callieth up whilst we are taking a bath, or about to go out, and hangeth upon the receiver until the arm acheth . . .

From the "wise guy" who remembereth all the jokes but remembereth not to whom he has told them, spare us!

Yea, from him who is eternally funny, oh, Lord, save us and deliver us!

For sinners may be found out
and restrained from their sinning, but the pests of this world, who can escape them?

"Women will be given preference in case of controversy." Aren't they always?

LOCAL COMMENT

When a Greek met a Greek in the good old days, they started up a restaurant. Now, they try to sell each other bids to their respective dances.

On Friday, the 14th, the Cards
played their last game of the season with Wayne. About twenty-five students helped make up the small crowd. Wonder what the Wayne aggregation thought of Omaha's school spirit?

Some blame the Kappas for holding their dance on the same night of the game, but they shouldn't be blamed, for the game was over at 9:15 p. m. Students could have attended both the game
and the dance.

Association, was the featured speaker at the women's basketball

Charges Campaign Against
Fraternal Orders

To the Editor:
In the last issue of your newspaper I noticed an editorial commenting upon the new student board of publications. In the editorial your writer expresses the opinion that heretofore all staff positions have been awarded solely for political reasons.

As an ex-editor, I take exception to your opinion as noted above. You, as a member of the staff during my reign, cannot fail to realize that every effort was made to award positions as a result of journalistic merit alone,
notwithstanding political connections.

True, in several cases, students who were not fortunate to belong to my fraternity were eliminated from the staff during the years of our service. But their removal was in accordance with the above express policy—one of efficiency.
You can vouch for that.

Perhaps the new board of control will some day bring the newspaper back to the high standard
it held during the good old days,
when efficiency was the main idea.
When you have attained your former high plane of excellence it will be more appropriate to begin your campaign against fraternal orders.

CHEMISTRY CLUB HEARS DR. MORGAN

Tells Hearers Of The Tools Used In Industry

A special meeting of the Chemistry Club was called last Friday, when Dr. Ralph A. Morgan, president of the Morgan Cleaning Company of Kansas City, spoke concerning "Chemical Tools In Industry."

By way of illustration of the tools used by chemistry in industry, Dr. Morgan said: "Let us assume that a workman gets a small particle of caustic soda in his eye. You have exactly twenty minutes to save that eye, due to the fact that the soda eats into the eyeball and a film forms over the particle. What to do? Neutralize it with an acid? That is nearly as bad as leaving the eye untreated."

"The first thing to do is to dilute the soda with water, and then to neutralize with acetic acid (vinegar) which is sufficiently weak to escape a burning of the eye. Here, then, we have an example of the tools used in a specific instance, but instead of a beaker, we have an eye, instead of an indicator, we must use the difference in refraction produced during the neutralization."

Dr. Morgan also gave several examples of tools in the telephone laboratories. Dr. Morgan received his Ph. D. from the University of Southern California.

While in Omaha, he also spoke before the State Dry Cleaners' Convention.

"He thinks he did, mother."

"I don't like your heart action," said the doctor as he used the stethoscope. "You've had some trouble with angina pectoris, haven't you?"

LEADING SCORER ON CARDINAL FIVE

Marlin Wilkinson, '35, center and guard on the Cardinal basketball team for the past two years, who led his mates in scoring during the past season. Wilkinson was the only Cardinal regular who finished the season without incurring any injuries. He was lost to the team for two games in mid-season, due to a death in the family, and his absence was keenly felt.

OMAHA GRADUATE SURVEY DIRECTOR

A project on the economic and housing conditions in Omaha has recently been started by the Omaha Urban League. J. Harvey Kerns, executive secretary of the Urban League and a graduate of the Municipal University of Omaha, is directing the survey, which is being made in the interests of the Omaha Community Chest.

ELIZABETH WENDLAND IS CONTEST WINNER

Elizabeth Wendland, '33, is described in the February issue of the Delphian magazine. She was awarded the Delphian scholarship last fall. The article says in part: "She is a very attractive young person, with a quiet, cultured charm, which somehow sets her apart—you feel instinctively that she is a most worthwhile young woman. Barely five feet tall, she possesses that unconquerable spirit of youth which presages success in whatever she undertakes."

Then there was the taxidermist's daughter who certainly knew her stuff.

And the man who knows the ropes seldom gets tied up.

Omaha Student Is Rifle Champ

Tom Organ Sets Record By Making 499 Points Out Of a Possible 500

Tom Organ, '35, is the Mid-West Rifle Association champion, having set a record last year when he made 499 points out of a possible 500. The previous record was held by Milt Pittman of Columbus, Neb., who made 399 points out of a possible 400.

Organ will compete in the Nebraska rifle and pistol championships at York, April 22 and 23. Last year he competed in the pistol championship for the first time and surprised everyone by winning with a 40 point margin.

National Champions

He was a member of the Nebraska team that won the National Rifle championship in 1930. He was also a member of the 1929 and 1931 teams. He was recently appointed coach of the Nebraska team. He is the youngest coach of a state rifle team in the entire country.

At present Organ is attempting to organize a rifle team at Municipal University. More than a hundred men have signed up and a team for women is also planned. Organ is 21, and a student of architectural drawing at Municipal University.

"For four years I've been chiseling, and look at me now," exclaimed a stone mason at work, while he gazed with envious eyes at the graduates marching by.
"You're not the only one, kid," cried a gowned chorus.

Janitors' Express Derailed Twice

Finish Season With Thirteen Victories in a 15-Game Schedule

Forsaking their mops, brooms, and buckets, the Janitor's Express "huffed and puffed" through 15 trips and were derailed only twice.

The Express very easily rolled through all competition until Martin Thomas' Baccanite team applied the air brakes. Some of the teams that the Janitors "cleaned" are the Hash House Quint, Tech High Seniors, Florence Aces, DeMolay, and the Xi Lambda.

Eligibility Rules

According to Lowell Fouts, captain, coach, manager, and general all-around flunkie, the necessary qualifications to play on the Express are that the applicant must not pass more than six hours a semester, and that he must earn part of his tuition by pushing a broom about the school.

Members of the team are: Lowell Fouts, Ken Haynie, DeLoss Thompson, Benny Huff, "Jawhn" Kozak, Bill Nelson, Frank Hummel, Iowa Viner, Jimmy Fisher, and John Riordan. All players have already received letters from the bursar.

The team recently adopted a yell. It is as follows:

I-I-I. O. U.

BURSAR, BURSAR, BURSAR

TEAR 'EM UP

The team or theme song while pushing a broom is: "It don't mean a thing if you don't have that swing."

Dr. T. Sullenger, head of the department of sociology, has received a request from D. L. Bernard, former president of the American Sociology Society, for permission to use his article on "Research Sources in Urban Sociology" in a forthcoming book, to be entitled "Methods of Social Research."

DISHING OUT SPORT HASH

SPRING is here—that is, if it isn't 10 below and three feet of snow on the ground when this edition comes out. They say, in the spring a young man's fancy turns to love. (What does the athlete do?)

GETTING down to business—the 1933-34 basketball team is really going to have an A-1 captain in Lloyd Patterson. Although small, Patterson is in no way handicapped, for that little flash burns many a floor up when he gets started.

TRACK and spring football is not far off. (It was just around the corner, but maybe March will get to the corner first). This year should see Omaha advance a step higher in track. With several former high school athletes enrolled and a large number of huskies from the University itself—Omaha ought to make it interesting for several colleges this spring.

FIRST of all, the veterans. There is Dave Lewis, pole vaulter, who last year set a new Nebraska Intercollegiate conference record by vaulting 12 feet 5½ inches. Then there's George Hartman, who won the shot put championship in the N. I. A. A. meet last year, when he tossed the shot 43 feet ¾ inch. Wilbur Wilhelm, the third veteran, is a sprinter.

THE new men include Clifford Anderson, former Tech High broad jump star; Ray Gehrig, former Benson High dash man; Bill Barrie, former North High 440-yarder, who last year surprised the public by nosing out Skinner of Tech in the 440 in the city meet; Harold Wilkes, former Tech High shot put star; Fred and Travis Dixon, former Tech sprint men; Charles Dickerson, former Tech High speedster, and Howard Sorensen, former South High and Howard college discus thrower.

CONTINUING, there's Leo Peary, former Thomas Jefferson hurdle and high jump star, and his teammate, Roy Honig, a distance man; Bill Nelson, last season's Cardinal hurdler; Elmer Ossian, Gene Hoover, Carroll Sales, Omaha weight men who should show this year; and Jimmy Fischer, Junior Grayson, Morton Wells, and a number of others who should bolster the 1933 squad. This season's track team, barring injuries and any other possible hard luck, should reach heights never before attained.

INTRAMURAL sports should spurt again on the campus soon. Coach Hartman is anxious that every man in the University take part in one of intramural sports of horseshoe, tennis, golf, or indoor baseball.

BILL BERKHEIMER, Neil Huff, and Eddie Blumenstein are happy fellows these days. Why? Those numeral sweaters is the answer—(The answer to any maiden's dream). Omaha should have several new faces on the 1933 football squad. Reason? A pip of a schedule coming up. DePaul, Simpson, Washburn aren't to be sneezed at.

—Paul Lange.

No Men's Ping Pong Table, Says Hartman

Coach Ned Hartman will not furnish the men of the University a ping pong table. Mr. Hartman's reversal of decision came after the present method of handling the ping pong situation proved satisfactory to all parties concerned. Men are required to pay a nickel fee per half hour. This fee is intended to cover the cost of ping pong balls.

CARDS DEFEAT WAYNE 38-32; CLOSE SEASON

Rally In Last Half Gives Omaha Victory

Breaking a four game losing streak, the Omaha Cardinals ended their basketball season with a 38 to 32 victory over Wayne Teachers last Friday night on the Benson floor. As a result, the Omahans clinched second place in the N. I. A. A. conference.

Wayne started out in the first half and played rings around the Cards, leaving the floor with a 16 to 12 advantage. Then Lowell Curtis, little Omaha guard, went on a scoring spree, scoring 16 points. Wilkinson, playing guard, made 12 points, both players scoring 14 points in the last 12 minutes.

Hoover Scores

Hoover was the only Omaha forward to score, making one field goal, with the guards scoring the rest. Captain Carroll "Chic" Sales played his last basketball game in a Cardinal uniform. He is a four-year letter man.

Wayne's team was evenly balanced, only three out of the ten players used failing to score. Paul, Lamson, and Grubb were the three highest scorers on the Teachers' squad, tying at six points each. About 150 people saw the game, 20 of which were students.

Thetas Win First Intramural Game

Five Teams Will Participate In Interfraternity Meet

Rallying nine points to tie their opponents before the final gun, the Alpha Sigs dropped the first contest of the interfraternity basketball tournament to the Thetas Tuesday, in the extra period, when Clifford Anderson, Theta forward, flipped in an under-basket shot that put his quintet in the lead, 22 to 20, and proved the winning basket of the contest. Barrie of the Alphas tossed in a free throw before the game ended, making the count 22 to 21.

Five Teams Entered

Five teams are battling for the interfraternity crown this year. The bars are represented by two outfits, one captained by Lowell Fouts and the other by Bill Nelson. The other three contenders are representatives of the three fraternities, Theta Phi Delta, Phi Sigma Phi, and Alpha Sigma Lambda.

The quintets will meet each other twice in the course of the tournament, constituting eight games for each five and a grand total of forty contests. Games are scheduled for 3 o'clock in the gymnasium on Tuesdays and on Thursdays.

A scheduled tussle between the Phi Sigs and the Bars, captained by Fouts, did not materialize on Tuesday.

Coach Hartman's Cardinal basketball team finished the 1933 basketball season with 10 wins and four defeats.

Although the Omaha record was not as impressive as that of 1932, when the Cardinals coasted to 20 straight wins, a combined record over the two years shows that Omaha has chalked up 30 victories in 34 games.

This season Omaha amassed 527 points in 14 games to opponents' 465. In 1932 the Hartman men rolled up 801 points in 20 contests to opponents' 489. Compiling the total points for the two seasons, 1932 and 1933, Omaha has tallied 1,328 points. Opponents have accounted for 954 points.

Omaha's brilliant two-year record has been established more or less through the efforts of the Iowa trio of Lloyd Patterson, Lowell Curtis, and Marlin Wilkinson. The trio has made 63 per cent of Omaha's scores in the past two years. Their total points amount to 852.

Cards End Season In Second Place

N. I. A. A. STANDINGS

Omaha finished the 1933 Nebraska Intercollegiate conference basketball schedule with six wins and four defeats—good enough for second place. Last year the Cardinals went through the season with flying colors to win the loop title, undefeated.

The Wildcats of Wayne Normal just about set the Omahans down to third place in the league last Friday night, but the Cardinals weren't to be outdone, winning 38-32.

Lloyd Patterson To Captain Basketeers

Lloyd Patterson, flashy Cardinal basketeer, was chosen captain of the 1933-34 Omaha cage squad at a meeting of the 1933 team after the Wayne Normal game last Friday night.

Patterson received the honor with but one dissenting vote—his own. The popular Omaha forward voted for a teammate, Lowell Curtis.

When asked by a teammate why he didn't vote for himself he replied: "Well, once I voted for myself in an election and when the votes were counted my vote wasn't mentioned."

First Track Team At Omaha, 1912

Relay Team Placed Third In A Meet At The City Auditorium

Track history at Municipal University dates back to 1912, when a relay team copped third place in an invitation meet held in the Omaha city auditorium. The Omaha quartet competed in the small university class.

The team consisted of George Parish, Clinton Halsey, Morley Cohn, and Willard Flor. Three members of the team reside in Omaha today, while the fourth lives in Council Bluffs.

Parish is an Omaha real estate man, Halsey is an automobile salesman, Flor a doctor, while Cohn is the head of a chain of theatres and lives in Council Bluffs.

Center "5" Beats Reserves 46 to 28

More Than 300 Watch Card Seconds Bring Season To a Close

For three quarters Benny Huff's Cardinal reserves pressed the Jewish Community Center Varsity basketball team in their charity game at the J. C. C. Tuesday night, but the Center quintet outlasted the Cardinal seconds in the final period and took the contest, 46 to 28. More than 300 saw the game.

From the start the game was extremely rough and before the battle was over two of Huff's men received minor injuries. Bill Nelson suffered an ankle sprain, and John Kozak received a cracked nose.

Late Rally

The tussle was close until the last few minutes. The Center led at the end of the first period, 6 to 5, and edged out a one-point lead, 17 to 16, at half-time. At the close of the third quarter the J. C. C. five was again holding a narrow margin, 22 to 21. From then on Iz Bogdanoff and Jim Burroughs got "hot" for the Center and put the game on ice for the J. C. C.

Lowell Fouts' Janitor Express five walloped the Xi Lambdas of the Center in a preliminary, 49 to 12. Both teams left the floor at the end of the game, pretty well bruised and battered.
